The stuff we have to say:

We know advertising is important. You want to grow your business and reach the right people. So do we. That is why we reserve the right to deny advertising opportunities to those who may not fit the audience of Kansas Living and its parent company, Kansas Farm Bureau. We would love for you to become part of our world (sorry, Aladdin snuck in there) and we welcome questions and different viewpoints and opportunities. Please reach out to us to ask further questions if you have a mutually beneficial idea.
